CAFFEY PICKED FOR YALE SQUAD

Virginia Player Likely to Attend Medical College at Old Eli Next Year.

When the Yale football squad assembled for practice next September the team in all probability will have a new recruit in the person of W. H. Caffey, who came into the public eye a few weeks ago by reason of his connection with two football teams at practically the same time. It will be remembered that after registering at the Medical College of Virginia, Caffey matriculated at the University of Virginia, and played with the football team of that institution in its victorious contest with the University of North Carolina, and finally decided to come back to the Medical College, and finished the season with his team.
Arthur Caffey, ex-Yale tackle and the coach of the University of North Carolina team this season and next, was in the city this week, and while here conferred with Caffey and urged him to go to New Haven. It is reported that Porter, the star half back of the University of North Carolina, will also go to Yale after next season.

CHARGES ARE DISMISSED.

Protests Against "The Judge" Overruled by Trotting Association.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., December 10.—The board of review of the National Trotting Association now in session in New York, has upheld M. E. Doyle, of this city, in his contention relative to "The Judge," which was contested at a number of the race meetings this fall on the Virginia-Carolina-Georgetown circuit, and the charges filed against the horse have been dismissed.
The judge won the 2:24 trotting stakes all over the circuit, and this decision means that all money won by the horse must be paid to the owner, and the horse is declared to be perfectly straight and entitled to run in all of the stakes which he won.

Bookmaking Abolished by Court.
FRANKFORT, Ky., December 10.—The Court of Appeals in a decision handed down today abolished bookmaking at the Latonia race-track, and put an end to that form of betting on horse races in the State of Kentucky.

Old Boys Defeated.
The Tigers defeated the Old Boys in a game of basketball at the Central Young Men's Christian Association last night by a score of 12 to 7. Corey, pitcher for the Tigers, struck out eleven of his opponents. The Tigers secured twenty-one hits, as against seven for the Old Boys.

BIG FREE-FOR-ALL ENDS FIELD TRIAL

Final Stake Brought Out a High Class Lot of Dogs.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SPRAY, N. C., December 10.—The Virginia-Carolina Field Trials Association's eighth annual trials came to a successful close today with the finish of the big free-for-all stake. Many of the members left on the late afternoon trains, and the balance will go tomorrow.
The free-for-all stake brought out a high class lot of dogs, though many of the good ones did not get a chance on birds, which have been scarce.
The winners were: First, black and white setter, Oakley Hills King, owned by W. G. Hurdley, Highlands, Va.; second, black and white setter, Count Gladstone's Count, owned by Jas. T. Rutherford, Jr.,

Close Finishes in Tampa Races.
OSORINE and FOREZ RUN DEAD HEAT IN FEATURE EVENT.

TAMPA, FLA., December 10.—Close finishes and dead heats characterized the running of today's card. Osorine and Forez furnished the excitement when they came under the wire together, the Fitzscholtz colt coming from behind, and not Osorine, who was expected to win. ## BURK & CO.,

808 East Main Street.

Mr. Smith, for the defense, moved that the evidence of this woman as to what occurred in the meeting place be taken between them and the two men be stricken from the record, because Torrence knew nothing about it, and, if he did learn of it, learned of it on Wednesday, by which time he had become reconciled with his wife and her mother. Judge Witt overruled the motion, and an exception was noted.

Hugh Fairbank was the first on for the defense. His wife is dead, and he has one child. He related the story of his first meeting with Mrs. Torrence, and said that she had called him over the telephone and had always made the arrangements for the subsequent meetings. Conway and Mrs. Gentry met with them. He testified to being warned and threatened twice by Torrence, who was accompanied by Gentry. Torrence had told him that his wife had $200 worth of jewelry; that if he could get that back Fairbank could have the woman. Subsequently Torrence came again, and shook cartridges in front of him and told him they were molded for him. Then came the story of the telegram, the meeting in Patrick and their home-coming on Wednesday. The defense laid stress on his testimony about sending warnings to Conway after Gentry and Torrence had threatened their lives, and he admitted he lied when he informed Torrence that he met his wife at the State Fair, adding to Mr. Fulton, "You would have done the same."

"I wouldn't have met the woman, in the first place," replied the lawyer tartly. The witness also admitted that he knew, after the first meeting, that Mrs. Torrence was a married woman, and knew who her husband was.

"And knowing that she was married and knowing her husband, you still had meetings with her?" asked Mr. Fulton, who was conducting the cross-examination. He replied in the affirmative.

Saw Her Often of Late.
He admitted meeting Mrs. Torrence four times after the murder—at Sixth and Leigh, Sixth and Grace, Seventh and Broad and on the stairway in the City Hall, during the progress of the trial. The time he was with her on these occasions ranged from 10 to 20 minutes. He denied that he had talked with the woman about the case. He denied also having bought shoes and a cloak for Mrs. Torrence since the murder, and that he had promised to marry her after the case was settled.

"Suppose," said Mr. Fulton, "that some one that you thought had a pair of shoes after the murder and the cloak she wore to-day, would you deny it?"
"I would."

"Suppose," continued the attorney, "that she told the Chief of Police that you had promised to marry her when the case had ended, would you deny that?"
"I would."

Talk of Peace Warrant.
He told of the prearranged meeting with Conway and Pollema Griffin, a former employee of Conway's, and of the latter's advice for them to swear out a peace warrant for Gentry and Torrence. Conway and Fairbank were themselves arrested at the time of this meeting. Officer Griffin corroborated the evidence of this meeting, and Charles Harris was used to tell of carrying a message of warning from Fairbank to Conway. James Flannery, Frank Jennings, and William Smith and Ernest Cary, both colored, eyewitnesses, testified to the first quarrel between Torrence and Gentry and Fairbank, when Torrence called Fairbank a liar and struck at him. All testified that Fairbank made no resistance and was very humble, though he admitted himself that he would have shot Torrence if the latter had made a move to reach for a pistol.

General Row in Henrico.
As a result of a row in the lower part of the county, Jim Jones, Thomas Jeter and Luther Miller were arrested yesterday morning. Jim Jones was charged with drawing a pistol on Jeter; Jeter with cutting one Howard Miller, and Luther Miller with pulling a knife on Jeter. They are all colored.

Authority Given President by Measure Introduced in Senate.
WASHINGTON, D. C., December 10.—As an indication of the activity in the interest of legislation, Senators today introduced more than 350 bills and resolutions, covering a great variety of subjects. Many of these measures failed of passage during the day. Congress, and 90 per cent. of them will receive scant consideration this session. Many are for pensions that could not be granted under the general law.

Standing out as a striking proposition was a resolution introduced by Senator Ray, relating to the President of the United States to cause Zelaya to be apprehended as a common criminal, charged with murder of two Americans engaged in revolutionary activity in Nicaragua, contrary to the code of war. Torrence, if the latter had made a move to reach for a pistol.

The House was in session for an hour and a half, and a large number of measures were introduced there. The most striking feature of the proceedings in that body was a speech by Representative Kuesterman of Wisconsin, denouncing the charges that his interest in German shipping was so great as to cause him to antagonize a bill for the relief of the American merchant marine. Mr. Kuesterman was in a jovial humor, and his speech was generally enjoyed. Senator Lorimer's successor in the House, Mr. J. M. Moxley, of Illinois, was sworn in.

Owing to the fact that no reports have been made from committees both houses are without subjects upon which to legislate. The Senate, therefore, adjourned until Monday and the House until Tuesday.

From the dispatch it would seem that the principal damage occurred to the hospital. It will require $6,000 to repair the hospital.
The population of Guam is about 10,000, and all natives. The Navy Department maintains a coaling station there.
